Developer Notes

- After you get a copy of the solution files via github, please do not change anything that is provided to you
- Please pay attention to the posted deadlines. Your commit timestamp should not be no later than the hard deadline
- Before committing your changes please make sure
 - Your solution files build and run fine
 - If any other document files other than the code files are required, then please make sure you included those as well
- Once you committed your changes, please test it one last time to make sure everything is ok
- Please send the github link to the location of your solution to me ~~and to your TA~~
